

social impact strategy

TOOLS FOR ENTREPRENEURS AND INNOVATORS

a SOCIAL ENTERPRISE balances MISSION + MONEY through design thinking is important for social innovation

How could you ARTICULATE your roadmap to impact?

logic_models capture
 WHAT you do
 HOW you do it
 WHY it matters
 (most problems = complex, so you adjust to what's possible)
limitation

Measuring impact in the social sector helps you:

1. drive towards operations improvement
2. fulfil internal/external accountability demands
3. define goals and render work concrete

How could you MEASURE impact?
 SROI heavily quantitative Rating Systems heavily qualitative balanced scorecards ...

.. make use of four elements that consist of several customisable metrics that are forward and backward looking

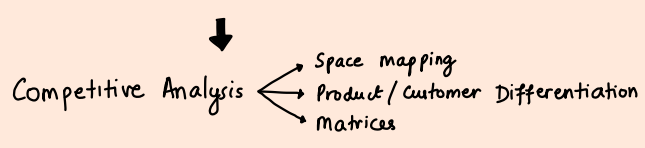

|               |                          |                          |         |
|---------------|--------------------------|--------------------------|---------|
| social impact | financial sustainability | stakeholder satisfaction | quality |
|---------------|--------------------------|--------------------------|---------|

Social impact organisations could choose to operate in a SECTOR on the following spectrum, each with different advantages

Things to consider while choosing the sector:

- The SECTOR guides the Business and Financial Models
- It should be chosen after careful consideration of the mission and associated activities

Before Scaling

KNOW THAT QUESTION

- Scale is central to solving challenging social problems, when managed and timed well!
  - It requires planning and effort, does not happen naturally
  - Scale is not the ultimate proof of market demand or effectiveness

- What is the case for growing the org?
  - What do you do that deserves to be done more?

- TOOLS
- Marketing Matrices
  - Customer Segmentation

Scaling strategies need to be based on the relevant units of change of the organisation. They could be:

